

DESPERADO

Shoots Down Two Men In Attempt To Rob New Albany Bank.

About noon today J. H. Fawcett, cashier of the Merchants National Bank of New Albany, was shot and killed, and J. K. Woodward, the president of the bank, was fatally wounded by a desperado who entered the bank and demanded a large sum of money. Hall is the name of the man who undertook to hold up the bankers. After shooting the two men he rushed out and commanded the negro driver of the machine to start the auto. This the negro refused to do and Hall then fired at him but did not hit him. Hall then ran down the street. A crowd was gathering and they gave chase. Some policemen were in the crowd and led the chase. They ran Hall to the river and there captured him. A great crowd was gathering and in the crowd were many angry and determined men. There was such an evidence of mob spirit that the police chief at once hustled Hall across to Jeffersonville and took him to the Reformatory.

Hall secured the auto in Louisville and the colored man was induced to go along and drive the machine. All's plan was evidently to hold up everybody in the New Albany bank, force them to hand him over a lot of money and then make his escape in the auto.

Holding Jail Against Mob.

Calro, Ill., Nov. 11.—Chief of Police Egan has fifty armed men guarding the jail here to prevent a mob of angry citizens from lynching William James, a negro, two other men and a young girl held in jail for the murder of Anna Pelley, who was strangled to death. A crowd of several hundred attacked the jail yesterday. The chief of police and assistants faced them with pistols. They paid no heed for a time, but attempted to batter down the jail doors. When Egan and his men poked the muzzles of their guns in the men's faces, they fell back, yelling and hooting.

Again and again they tried to break into the jail, but each time were met by the police at the door, who threatened anyone with death who should attempt to cross the threshold. The mob was finally dispersed. A second mob gathered later and tried to get the prisoners to kill them. The police talked to them, and after some persuasion they left.

The sheriff later spirited James from the jail and is hiding him in some secluded spot unknown to the mob.

ALILSON SUCCUMBED

Indiana's "Jean Valjean" Tumbles Off the Water Wagon.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 11.—The romance of the modern "Jean Valjean" has been shattered. John Allison, the South Bend man who earned this title while his wife and daughter were working to bring about his release from prison, and who finally succeeded, has again fallen into evil ways and has been arrested at Jackson, Mich., while celebrating.

The case of Allison attracted national attention two years ago and interest in the matter became so intense that letters were written to President Roosevelt requesting his aid in the matter of obtaining a pardon for Allison.

Allison was arrested several years ago on a charge of having participated in the robbery of the Richland (Mich.) bank of $15,000. He was sentenced to prison for fifteen years. With the sentence half served Allison escaped from prison, and during the next two years nothing was heard of him.

Finally, a man who knew Allison in his youth accidentally ran across him at Moline, Ill., and betrayed him to obtain the reward. Allison was arrested, and it was then learned that after his escape from prison he had married and settled down to a life of respectability. He was returned to prison, where he remained until pardoned.

MARRIED.

McKINNEY-GILES.

Wednesday evening, November 10, Will McKinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKinney, of this city, and Miss Eugenia Giles were married at the home of her parents in Texarkana, Texas, in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. They will arrive here Friday to make a visit with his parents. Will went to Texarkana several years ago and for the last few years has held a responsible position in a bank. His bride is a popular and accomplished young woman and is the daughter of one of the most prominent business men of Texarkana.

POLICE SKEPTICAL

Strange Story of a Lafayette Woman Looked on With Suspicion.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Hazel Anderson, who was found unconscious at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Valentine, with cuts on her arms and face and a towel saturated with chloroform tied over her face, when aroused from her stupor told a strange story. Mrs. Anderson said that while she was alone in the house she came downstairs and met a strange man, who attacked her, slashing her with a knife. He then tied a chloroform towel over her face, and that is the last she remembers, she says. The police insist that Mrs. Anderson is mistaken, and that she herself inflicted the wounds and tied the towel about her head.

Funeral.

The funeral of William Largent was conducted at the Church of Nazarene this afternoon at two o'clock and was in charge of the pastor, Rev. J. F. Harvey. About thirty-five members of the G. A. R. and the W. R. C. attended in a body. At his own request he was buried with the honors of war. The remains were interred in Riverview cemetery.

Promoting Canal Project.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 11.—Fort Wayne's waterway convention to promote the proposed canal to join Lake Michigan and Lake Erie, is in full swing. Senator Beveridge was the orator at last night's session. Senator Shively and Lewis Nixon will speak tonight. The purpose of the convention is educational, to promote public demand for a preliminary survey.

Meeting of Indiana Cannery.

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—About 150 members of the Indiana State Cannery Association are present at the annual convention of the organization at the Claypool hotel. A feature of today's program was an address to the canners by Governor Marshall. The members of the organization will enjoy a theater party tonight.

CELEBRATION

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Entertain Visitors Tonight.

The Seymour lodge of I. O. O. F., will entertain a large number of visiting Odd Fellows this evening, and are preparing for a great time. Invitations have been sent to the lodges in this county and to a number in the neighboring cities, and most of them have signified their intention to send a delegation.

A class of candidates will be initiated, and arrangements have been made to give the work in the Majestic, as the I. O. O. F. hall will not accommodate the large number that will attend. The work will be given by different lodges. Seymour will confer the first degree, Mitchell the second and the third will be given by the team from Columbus.

Preceding the work at the opera house there will be a parade headed by the Seymour Military band. All the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will meet at their hall at seven o'clock. For the convenience of the older members, a large number of automobiles and carriages have been provided. The Canton in uniforms will be one of the features of the parade. Dr. L. B. Hill and John Roeger, will lead the parade.

The Rebekahs have also made special arrangements and are expecting a large number of visitors. Their initiatory will be given in the I. O. O. F. Hall by the Mitchell lodge. After the work is completed the lodges will banquet at the banquet hall of the Masonic lodge.

A number of prominent Odd Fellows will be in attendance and address the meeting. Grand Secretary Leedy, Hon. Richard Hallywood, of Indianapolis, C. S. Barnaby, of Columbus and district deputy Oren O. Swails are among the members who will make addresses.

Miss Edna Droege has accepted a position as head clerk in the new Fair Store, which will be opened by W. E. Hoadley & Son next Saturday in the room adjoining their grocery. Miss Droege is a capable and efficient clerk and has had several years experience. She will be assisted by Miss Anna Hunterman and Miss Bertha Staudt. The stock is now being arranged and everything will be ready for the opening Saturday. See their announcement elsewhere.

Blish's Scottsburg Exchange.

The Blish Milling Company, of Seymour, on last Saturday, let a contract for a new flour and feed exchange, to Fred Beggs.

The new plant is to be built on the site of the old one which was destroyed by fire several months ago, while being operated by Warren A. Smith.

The building is to be of frame, with concrete foundation, and to be modern in all respects, and the contract calls for its completion in thirty days. This firm is well and favorably known here, and the Blish Milling Co. plant at Seymour is one of the largest in southern Indiana, and at one time operated an exchange here, but afterward sold to Mr. Smith. The many friends of C. C. Wells will be glad to know that he is to be manager of the new enterprise.—Scottsburg Journal.

Oil Man Here.

Mr. Doosing, who is engaged in the oil business at Fresno, Cal., was in the city yesterday the guest of his uncle, William Stewart, of Fourth street and Central avenue. He has been a resident of that locality for several years and is well pleased with the soil and climate. They are located in sight of mountains and are in a veritable garden spot. The Kern river is not far away and the beautiful Merced river and the Yosemite Valley are within 150 miles.

Hunters' Licenses.

About 300 hunters' licenses had been issued in Jackson county so far this year up to Wednesday morning. A good many were issued last week, more than forty were issued Monday and about 60 on Tuesday. The business started off rather slow this morning but it is not too late yet for about the usual number to be issued during the season. Last year the total number of hunters' licenses issued in Jackson county was about 500.

Foot Ball Games.

The manager of the high school foot ball team has completed arrangements for a game with the Franklin High School to be played in Seymour next Saturday. A return game will be played at Franklin on the following Saturday. The Thanksgiving game will be played in this city with the Greenwood high school team.

Traction Man Injured.

John Vanosdol, an employe of the I. & L. freight run, was quite seriously injured on his run Wednesday. He struck his foot against a broken glass which cut through his shoe and made a wound in the side of his foot. The wound was dressed by a physician at Scottsburg.

SALEM'S MARSHALL

An Example of What a Faithful Officer Can Do.

Henry W. Medlock, of Salem, who has been elected again to succeed himself as town marshal, has held that position for almost thirty years. The best part of his life has been spent for Salem, and his record is clean. He has been a terror to evil doers and among that class has made many enemies. He has put himself up as a target to be shot at by desperadoes, who have tried to do up the town and when compelled to do so for self protection has returned the fire and sometimes with telling effect. He first became peace officer of the town some years after the close of the war when Salem had the reputation of being one of the worst towns in Southern Indiana and now, perhaps as much or more through his efforts than anyone else, the town is recognized as being as orderly as the best. Medlock was marshal of Salem when the drunks could scarcely be crowded into the jail on a Saturday or whenever the town would attempt to have a holiday, a political rally, or anything of the kind. He has worked with Sheriff after Sheriff that has been elected and has made and assisted in making many important captures. His record from the first has been an enviable one and how well he has pleased the law abiding people of the town is shown by the fact that he has been elected over and over again to the same office. He has been a fearless officer and has been placed in many very dangerous situations. And now that he has grown old in the service of the town and there has come to be less need of a peace officer, the law abiding people of the town appreciate his faithfulness too much to turn him down and give his position to some other less deserving person.

When Henry Medlock went after a man who seldom heard of him making his escape. And when a writ was put into his hands for the arrest of any person, be that person friend or foe, guilty or innocent, that was not his to say. He did not delay but made the arrest at the earliest possible moment. No one ever successfully accused Medlock of dishonesty or of shirking his official duty. He had his political convictions, as everyone has a right to have, but he is not a radical. Many who have known him all their lives do not know his politics if they have never been a voter in an election where he was one of the candidates. In religion he was an active member of the Methodist church and has never been ashamed of it. On the contrary he enjoys taking an active part in the prayer meetings and in consulting with the pastor or the official board about any of the spiritual or business matters of the church. He is a splendid example of what a strictly law abiding and God-fearing peace officer can be to a town, where courage and good judgment are necessary.

Scott County To Vote.

Scott county has tried doing without saloons for a year or two and the result of the local option election will probably be as it has been in other counties made dry by remonstrance. When the election is held November 23 it will not be surprising if every township in the county votes dry, including the one in which Scottsburg is located. Sixty per cent of the total number of votes cast are registered for the dries and the majority in the county amounts to about 500. The wets will make a hard fight to capture something, if it is only one or two precincts, while the dries will work equally hard to poll a majority of the votes in every township and precinct in the county. The dries have begun a speaking campaign to educate the voters and to give them some facts and the results of observation of the drink traffic, while the wets are going about things in a different way. The campaign in Scott county will not be an expensive one as the inevitable result in the county is too well known. However, there will be much interest taken in the final outcome all over the state as there has been in every other county that has voted. Neither will it be a political fight for democrats, republicans and prohibitionists will vote the same way.

Shakespeare Play Next.

"As You Like It" marks the high tide of Shakespeare's genius. It is probably one of the most perfectly constructed comedies in any language. Its simplicity and directness, aside from its rich humor, needs no particular culture to grasp its meaning and is entirely free from any hint of pedantry. It was written to be understood by the masses, not the scholar alone, and its exposition of delightful humor is so obvious that even a child can understand it. At the Majestic, Nov. 16, afternoon and evening.

It is not often that the people of Seymour have an opportunity to hear a Shakespearian play. These great plays call for great actors whose time is claimed largely by the big cities. But since Manager Gelle has been successful in securing "As You Like It" for Seymour the people should show their appreciation for the best and crowd the house. This play is given by a very strong company.

Pay Big Prices.

Some of the members of the Central Indiana and Ohio Poultry Association declared at a recent meeting at Indianapolis that lost heavily last season when they paid 14 cents per pound for turkeys, and entered into an agreement to pay but 12 cents this year. The poultry dealers, in Seymour, however, are now paying 14 cents for choice, selected turkeys and will continue that price so long as possible, thus giving to the farmers in this section of the country, more for their turkeys than is being paid in many other places.

Census Supervisor.

William O. Protsman, of Vevay, the Fourth district census supervisor, spent Wednesday night in this city. He is going over the district to acquaint himself with the field work ahead. In the ten counties under his supervision he will have nearly 200 enumerators under his direction. The actual work of taking the census will not be done until next spring.

BLOODHOUNDS FOLLOW TRAIL

Cairo Stirred By Foul Murder
of Young Woman.

NEGROES HELD ON DOG CLUE

The Stripped and Mutilated Body of Miss Anna Pelley, a Drygoods Clerk,
Was Found in an Alley at Cairo, the Surroundings Pointing to the Commission of a Horrible Crime—On the Evidence of Bloodhounds Four Negroes Have Been Held to Give an Account of Themselves.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 10.—Monday night
Anna Pelley, a clerk in a drygoods store, was murdered here. The crime was revealed when children found her stripped and mutilated body in an alley yesterday. Her clothing showed signs of a hard struggle for life. Her parasol was so bent that she evidently had been using it as a weapon.

Miss Pelley was about twenty-four years old. Her parents are dead and she made her home with her sister, a Mrs. Coffman. Her relatives state that she had no known enemies, as she was always friendly to everyone.
During her years of residence in Cairo, having come here from Anna, Ill., she worked as a saleswoman for the Pupkin Drygoods company and had no trouble with anyone there.

Miss Pelley left the store shortly after 6 o'clock Monday evening, in company with Miss Ella Dolan. They walked up Commercial avenue to the home of her friend, and there she left Miss Dolan, who was the last known person to see Miss Pelley alive. Miss Pelley probably then boarded the Washington avenue car, as was her usual course, and left the car at Twenty-sixth and Sycamore streets. She carried her weekly wages in a purse and a bundle of dress goods. These were untouched, which points to the fact that the attack was made for assault and not robbery. She was gagged and her clothing was torn into shreds.

Mayor Parsons placed bloodhounds on the trail. They were scented with the gag taken from Miss Pelley's mouth. The dogs at once took up the scent, finally stopping at a house at Twenty-sixth and Commercial avenue.
No one being home, Chief of Police Egan ordered that the door of the house be opened, which was done, but the house was vacant. The police then arrested four negroes who were said to have been occupants of the house, and are holding them. Mayor Parsons has offered a reward of $1,000 and the county will offer a reward.

A NAMELESS GRAVE

Contains Body of Miss Dresseu
Woman Drowned Near Indianapolis.
Indianapolis, Nov. 10.—Unidentified,
the body of the stylishly dressed young woman that was found in White river near Broad Ripple Monday afternoon was buried by Coroner Blackwell.

It was impossible to keep the body longer, and it is now probable that identification will never be made, although Coroner Blackwell will retain the water-soaked and mud-stained garments in hopes they may be the means of later identification.

The police and coroner are baffled by the mystery that surrounds the finding of the woman's body. Theories are numerous, but so far nothing definite has been learned concerning the river's victim.

"VOTES FOR WOMEN!"

Suffragists Make Their Slogan Heard
at Lord Mayor's Banquet.

London, Nov. 10.—The lord mayor's annual banquet at the Guild Hall to the members of the cabinet and others had a suffragette interlude. Notwithstanding the arrangements, which the police thought made intrusion impossible, as the lord mayor was toasting
the king, a crash was heard overhead and a shower of glass fell on the statue of Wellington, followed by a faraway voice like a wandering echo,
"Votes for women!"

The police found that two suffragettes had gained access to the staircase leading to the gallery, had smashed a window in the gallery and shrieked through the hole.

Young Woman's Unhappy Fate.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 10.—Miss Maggie Poe, aged twenty-two, daughter of W. L. Poe of Silver City, committed suicide. Letters addressed to her mother and to a young man to whom she was engaged told a sad story of betrayal and desertion.

Millionaire Wants Change of Venue.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 10.—Attorneys for Elias Ray, a millionaire land owner, charged with murdering Conrad Ortman, a farm employe, have filed a motion in the circuit court asking for a change of venue from this county.

Buck Creek's Serious Loss.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 10.—The business part of Buck Creek, a village nine miles northeast of Lafayette, on the Wabash railroad, was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

PROVEN ECZEMA CURE.

A Trial Bottle of Oil of Wintergreen
Compound is Offered at 25 Cents.

By a special arrangement with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago,
we can at present offer the D. D. D.
Prescription for eczema in a special trial bottle at one-quarter of its usual price. This oil of wintergreen compound will surely convince the most skeptical. With the first application you will get instant relief from the itch and soon you will see the signs of cure.

No matter how many salves and other so-called skin remedies have failed, this oil of wintergreen liquid (unlike salves) will penetrate to the inner skin, killing the eczema germs.
Will you not—on our special recommendation—call at our store?—and get a 25 cent trial bottle of D. D. D.
Prescription.

SOUTH DRIFTWOOD.

There will be no church here Sunday
but Bro. Cross will be here the second Sunday in December.

Wm. Dickmeyer and Thomas Mantel visited John Downing Sunday at Russel Chapel.

Albert and Emmet Waskom went to Urbana, Ill. to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Frische visited at Cortland Sunday.

Ernest Toppe, of Seymour, were through here Sunday calling on friends.

Born to Ed Robison and wife, a daughter; to Charles Doty and wife,
a son.

Mrs. Henry Dickmeyer and F. M.
Thompson are sick.

Alice Opal, daughter of Frank and Julia Huddleson, died Saturday, November 6. Age one year, eleven months and 27 days.

Eczema Readily Cured By a Simple Home Treatment.

A simple clean remedy that can be used in the home is what every person desires who is suffering from eczema.
You can now have that remedy and get instant relief, and be cured permanently by ZEMO, a clean vegetable liquid for external use. ZEMO cures skin diseases by drawing the germs and their poisons, that cause the disease, to the surface of the skin and destroying them, leaving the skin clean and healthy. Mr. Pellens the druggist will give you a booklet and explain to you how a great many cases of eczema and other forms of skin diseases have been cured by this simple home treatment.

SIX MILE.

Nick Hauerperger, wife and son,
Howard, of Seymour, visited Adam Hauerperger and family Sunday.

George Vogel, of Mutton Creek, visited Adam Hauerperger and family Thursday last.

Joe Hauerperger lost a valuable horse one day last week.

Miss Josephine Senseback, of Seymour, attended the social given at the Speckner school house Friday night and visited her cousin, Lenora Mas-chino, Saturday and Sunday.

The social given at the Speckner school house Friday night was well attended and enjoyed by all. Miss Josephine Senseback was given a cake
as being the most popular lady present.

A Valuable Booklet Free.

Any person who will call at A. J.
Pellens' Drug store will be given a little booklet written by an eminent authority. Every family has one or more people who have eczema, pimples, dandruff, ring worm, tetter, prickley heat, hives or some form of skin or scalp disease. This booklet is written in such a plain, simple manner that any person after a perusal of it can tell what is the matter with them and can at once proceed to get a simple home treatment that will destroy the germ life that causes the disease, and in this way effect a complete cure of any form of skin disease.

VALLONIA.

J. F. Slade returned from Derby,
Kan., where he was visiting relatives.
He brought home some Kansas corn and from the sample Kansas is not much of a corn cracker state. He says
Kansas is not flattering this year.
Last summer there were four days in succession when the thermometer registered 106 in shade.

A. E. Smith singing Evangelist, is helping Elder Cross in his work at the Christian church.

Geo. Schroeder, Dave Trowbridge
and A. J. Waskom left Monday evening for Illinois.

Henry F. Borchering came in from Hooks, Tex. He moved there about a month ago. He came here to husk the corn he raised this summer.

Mr. Pellens is pleased to announce that he will continue the agency for ZEMO, the best known remedy for eczema, pimples, dandruff, ring worm, prickley heat, tetter, hives, or any other form of skin or scalp disease.
Last year Zemo made some remarkable cures of chronic cases of skin diseases; and Mr. Pellens says ZEMO gives the best results of any remedy
he has ever sold for the prompt relief and positive cure of any form of skin or scalp disease. ZEMO is a clean vegetable liquid for external use, pleasant and agreeable to use. Can be used freely on infants.

THE PRESIDENT THRIVED ON IT

Took On Flesh During 13,000
Mile Journey.

HE'S GLAD TO GET BACK HOME

President Taft, Spending the Day at Richmond, Is Happy Over the Prospect of Being Back in Washington Tonight—Finishing Long Jaunt in Excellent Health and Several Pounds
Heavier Than When He Started Out
—Governor of North Carolina Expresses Sentiments of the South.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 10.—Early this morning President Taft arrived in Richmond and will remain until 5 o'clock this afternoon. The president was happy today over the prospect of being back in Washington again tonight and having the entire 13,000-mile trip behind him. He is finishing the long jaunt in excellent health and several pounds heavier than when he started out.

Wilmington's reception was one of the pleasantest President Taft has received. The decorations of the little city surpassed those of most other places that the president has visited.
The streets were lined with rows of long-leaved pine trees, set up temporarily, and the fronts of the buildings were decorated with pine boughs.
There was a triumphal arch made of pine trees, on each side of which stood a little dandy holding a fatted "possum" by the tail.

The president gave more time to Wilmington than he did to Chicago.
He was out of his train at 8 o'clock in the morning and he was on the go until 7 o'clock last evening, when he left for Richmond, where he had his last speaking engagement of the trip
today. In introducing the president Governor Kitchen's speech was typical of the expressions that have come from the Democratic governors of most of the other southern states.

He said: "We want you to know that the south is your country as the north is our country. A little more than a generation ago this part of the country thought it could get along without the north, but the north knew it could not get along without the south, and so there came that great struggle. We thought that the successful litigant behaved badly for a time, but all that has been forgotten
and we cherish it no more."

He went on to say that he knew of no man who would be more likely to give the south justice than President Taft himself.

DEADLY SMASHUP

New York Joy Riders Meet With Accident That May Cost Two Lives.

New York, Nov. 10.—Five men and four women were involved in an automobile crash on the Hoffman boulevard at Caldwell avenue, Elmhurst, L. I., late last night. The owner of the machine and one of the women were so badly hurt that they will probably die. The others were only bruised, and they got away without any arrest being made. The name of the worst injured woman could not be learned. The man who appeared to have been driving the car was caught under it. He was Frank Gorrey, he said, and he claimed he owned the machine. If he does he was using the license tag which should be on the machine owned by Rodman Wanamaker, son of John Wanamaker. He was taken to the Flushing hospital.

ONE BODY RECOVERED

Chauffeur of Ill-Fated Car Found in Chicago River.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—The body of Ernest Camp, chauffeur who drove his taxicab, in which Beatrice Shapiro and Max Cohen, her fiancé, are believed to have been passengers, into the river
at Jackson boulevard Sunday night, has been recovered. Shortly after the body of Camp was recovered a pipe-man drew a woman's veil and a mourning handkerchief from the water. Miss Shapiro was not in mourning, and this raised a doubt as to whether she and Cohen were the occupants of Camp's auto. Chief of Police Steward has ordered that the river bottom be dragged.

AN EARLY ARREST

Is Expected in the Case of the Murder of Enoch Highshew.

Mishawaka, Ind., Nov. 10.—The police expect that within twenty-four hours the murderer of Enoch Highshew will be placed under arrest. Suspicion now points strongly to one man.
It is said Highshew had been lavishing his attentions on a married woman in Mishawaka, and that his tragic death can be attributed to this fact.
The suspect is said to be well known.
Sheriff Kerr holds to the theory that Highshew was the victim of an frate husband.

The cottage at Lakewood, N. J., which Grover Cleveland sometimes used as a summer home has been turned into a sanitarium for children suffering from tuberculosis.

A Fashion Chat on Coats and Skirts

Most of the new coats are long, being from three-quarters to seven-eighths in length and seven-eighths fitted.
The new fabrics go
under the names of wide wale serge, cheviot, zibeline, homespun, and basket cloth. The surface of each is hairy. The mesh is loose and open
and the finish is dull.
Fortunately, for health's sake, the manufacturers have done away with weight. Heavy as the fabrics look, they are easy to carry.

The rough cloths, prevail every where for coats and coat suits. One of the most startling of these materials for street
gowns is called sable
cloth and is of a velvety softness. It has a soft deep nap like beaver and it first looks heavy, but is as light and supple as velvet. It comes in the most fascinating colors.

The new jackets shown present changes which in some instances are quite marked. Many are cut on lines quite familiar, but those of distinctive cut are of Moyenne derivation and show an elongated waistline created by cutting the front around to join the back.

Deep yokes, closely fitted and finished with a full plaited flounce, are the latest novelties in skirts, which for the most part are of round length, but be run upon the first innovations.

Of distinctive line in the model pictured which represents the fashionable coat No. 3200 in navy blue wide-wale diagonal. Moyenne lines are presented in the jacket which is double breasted and almost tight fitting yet evinces the low waistline by the graceful line of the front which slopes to the under-arm square across the front. The skirt, No. 3201, which is suitable with the jacket is a yoke model, fitted closely about the hips and cut in nine gores, including a panel front, and lengthened by a plaited flounce. Pictorial Review Patterns of the coat are in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measure. Pictorial Review Patterns of the skirt, in sizes 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inches waist measure.

In the Ladies' Seven-eighths fitted jacket No.
3203 other novelties are featured. The square-cut collar is at once noted as
are also the sleeves
which present a slight fullness above a deep cuff effect. Plaits arranged at the center-back to give length and fullness indicate the latest note in constantly changing fashions. If desired, the skirt may be made with a seam at center-front and a habit or inverted plait
back used as preferred.
Pictorial Review Patterns
of the coat are in sizes
32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42
inches bust measure.
The skirt shown in Pattern No. 3212 has a circular-shaped side yoke, panel front and back, and straight plaited flounce.
Pictorial Review Patterns
are in sizes 22, 24, 26, 28
and 30 inches waist
measure.
Patterns of these designs, indicating cutting
and construction guides,
are 15 cents each number.

GOVERNOR MARSHALL has reappointed Senator Eph Inman, of Washington, a member of the board of trustees of the southeastern Indiana hospital. He was originally appointed by Governor Hanly.

If it is true that there are boys and girls in Seymour who are out of school contrary to law they should be hunted up and started to school. They are the heaviest losers but they are too young to appreciate that fact. Their parents, however know that they should be in school every day and the best thing for them to do is to see that they go. If there is work here for the truant officer he should be on duty and stay at it until the work is cleaned up. The compulsory school law, like every other law, should be lived up to in every part of the state.

TAKES PARTING SHOT AT GIFFORD PINCHOT

Ormsby McHarg Has More to Say About Conservation.

Washington, Nov. 5.—A parting shot has been fired at Gifford Pinchot, chief of the forestry bureau, and the other leading conservationists, by Ormsby McHarg, retired assistant secretary of the department of commerce and labor, in an interview which he has given out for general circulation. He declares that there is a lack of figures to back up the "conservation" argument scattered broadcast through the agency of government publicity bureaus. He says that he is unable to see much difference between the conditions confronting the settlers in Washington and Oregon and even Alaska at the present and the settlers in the great western reserve fifty or sixty years ago. The latter had to clear their rich land of trees, which were burned because there was no other way to dispose of them.

"It is practically the same," says McHarg, "in Washington and Oregon now. Must the settler be stopped from chopping down forest trees in order that he may have room to build a house and plant corn, merely because the forests have been cut off in Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania?"

OKLAHOMA CITY HAS A MURDER MYSTERY

Wealthy Real Estate Man Murdered In Office.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 8.—The dead body of Roy D. Gannon, thirty years old, a wealthy real estate man, was found by his girl stenographer Sunday afternoon hanging from the roof of the fourteen-story office building known as the Campbell building.

Gannon had been dead several hours and the police are confronted with the most mysterious case in recent years. A package containing $1,000 in currency which Gannon drew from a bank Saturday is missing.

After Gannon was beaten to insensibility a noose was coiled from a piece of rope and with the aid of a piece of iron the rope was twisted about his neck, almost severing his head. The secret service department is seeking a blonde woman with whom Gannon was seen on the streets here in an automobile late Saturday afternoon. Gannon came here several years ago from Lexington, Ky., and was one of the leading real estate men of Oklahoma.

CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION

People to Be Brought Gradually to New Monetary System.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Unless the unexpected happens in the congressional elections next fall, the chances are that no effort will be made to pass a bill revising the banking and currency laws of the United States until the sixty-second congress assembles in December, 1911. This at least is the present plan of the monetary commission which will meet in Washington soon after Senator Aldrich completes his present western tour. Members of the commission are convinced that before a central bank of issue bill can be devised a campaign of education must be conducted in the east as well as in the west.

Advices from western states are to the effect that the impression prevails in several of them that the central bank as proposed by Senator Aldrich means that such an institution would be nothing more or less than a New York bank which is controlled by the Standard Oil company. Western men in writing to the commission have been frank in declaring that such a belief is widespread.

A member of the commission is authority for the statement that no effort will be made to push the central bank of issue plant at the coming session of congress. The indications are that the lawmakers will be busy with other matters, notably bills relating to interstate commerce, that will be given prominence in President Taft's message. In the meantime the central bank of issue plan will be discussed from the lecture platform and in speeches in the house and the senate with a view to educating the people against the time when it will be brought up for consideration by congress.

ORTHODOXY GETS STRONG CHAMPION

Mysterious Millionaire to Aid of the Old Faith.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Free thinkers and higher thinkers should take notice. The $300,000 endowment of a mysterious Los Angeles millionaire is to be used by the Rev. A. C. Dixon of Moody church to fight for orthodoxy, and anyone who gets in the way is going to be handled without gloves.

A monthly magazine is to be published under the direction of Dr. Dixon. It will be devoted to an old line exposition of Bible truths and to a defense against the rationalistic school of preachers and professors.

It is the first organized effort of any consequence to turn back the growing hosts of higher criticism and to set the current of scholarly thought back into the channel of the ages. Surface indications show that the new magazine is bound to stir up a lot of controversy and to make a sharp and continuing issue between the old and new schools of theology.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

By the foundering in Block Island sound of a Nova Scotian barkentine seven lives were lost.

Fred Rowler of Port Huron, Mich., jumped seventy feet from a railway trestle to a heap of boulders to escape a train and was not injured.

Captain William A. Marshall has been selected as commandant of the Norfolk navy yard to succeed Rear Admiral Edward D. Taussig, who will retire on Nov. 20.

It is said that Charles S. Mellen will, at the meeting of the directors of the Boston & Maine railroad, be elected president to succeed Lucius Tuttle, who will retire.

It is said that the members of President Taft's cabinet have determined to make insistent recommendation to the president for the immediate removal of Gifford Pinchot from his position as head of the forestry service.

CRAZED WITH LIQUOR

Murder, Arson and Suicide Follow Kentuckian's Long Stew.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 11.—Cassius Moody, aged forty, one of the best-known and most prosperous farmers of Madison county, killed his wife, set fire to the house, and then drank a bottle of carbolic acid, and both were dead shortly after neighbors reached the scene.

Moody had been drinking for several days and was said to have been crazed with liquor. Mrs. Moody was formerly Miss Mattie Sannan of St. Louis, Mo., and was one of the most highly respected women in Madison county.

DR. TIMBY FAILED TO OBTAIN RECOGNITION

For Forty Years Sought Place In School Books.

New York, Nov. 11.—Theodore Rugles Timby is dead. Dr. Timby gave up the last forty years of his life in an effort to establish the claim that he was the inventor of the revolving turret, which helped to make so much history in Hampton Roads, and his long fight, although in part to get payment from the government for his invention, was mainly to secure recognition and have his name put down in the school-books in place of that of John Ericson. He died at the age of ninety-one without having got the recognition he sought.

Dr. Timby's claims, although never officially recognized by the government, received the backing of many authorities. John F. Winslow, contractor and builder of the Monitor, in a letter to Mr. Timby written in 1885, recognized his claim as the inventor of the Monitor's revolving turret, and the United States patent office has certified that among its records is a caveat filed by Dr. Timby on Jan. 18, 1843, for "a metallic revolving fort to be used on land or water and to be revolved by propelling engines located within the same."

The patent office also certifies to the filing of broader specifications covering improvement in a "revolving battery tower" by Dr. Timby in 1862.

WANTS LODGE'S TOGA

Congressman Ames Has Actively Inaugurated His Campaign.

Boston, Nov. 11.—Congressman Butler Ames of Lowell, grandson of Benjamin Butler and son of General Adelbert Ames, encouraged by the evidence of revolt against the Lodge-Gardner machine in Essex county, has admitted that his fight against Henry Cabot Lodge for his seat in the United States senate has already begun. The Massachusetts legislature of 1911, to be nominated and elected next fall, will choose between them.

Mr. Ames declined to discuss his candidacy beyond admitting it. He will make no formal announcement. Other Republicans said that it will surprise nobody if once the Ames-Lodge contest seems to be leaning the way of the former, the friends and admirers of Congressman McCall make their appearance behind a formidable boom for the Winchester statesman.

Somebody asked the congressman a day or two ago on what grounds he would oppose Lodge. He was asked to say what arguments he would place before the Republicans as reason why Lodge should be displaced. It was suggested that perhaps he might say that Lodge "had had it long enough." "I shall say nothing of the sort," said Ames. "There are reasons in plenty."

$15 SUITS

We are holding some inducements for the army of fifteen-dollar-suit men. More men buy suits at fifteen dollars than any other price. This popular figure appears to fit the purse of nearly half the trade. For this reason we aim to give our patrons the best suits for fifteen dollars this price ever bought. Handsome fall fabrics in new coloring, quiet or noisy styles, excellent tailoring by experts. Suits you cannot distinguish from the $18 and $20 associates. We think you will say at once they are the best FIFTEEN DOLLAR SUITS YOU EVER SAW.

I am not going into them until the time comes. That will be along about Christmas time next year. There are reasons at Washington that the home folks may not know about."

THEN HE SHOT HER

Illinoisan Put Bullet Into Girl Who Accused Him of Deception.

Pullman, Ill., Nov. 11.—Miss Catherine Campbell, twenty-six years old, who ran away from her home in Hammond, Ind., two weeks ago, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Gustave Artigus, who escaped. The girl ran away from home after a quarrel with her stepmother. She made the acquaintance of Artigus in Pullman and was led to believe that he intended to marry her. She accused him of deceiving her and the shooting followed.

Compliments to Mr. Glavis.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger has issued a formal statement branding the charges of L. R. Glavis that he had been guilty of attempting to manipulate coal claims in Alaska in such a way as to favor his friends as "a tissue of falsehoods and insinuations utterly unwarranted in view of the facts easily obtained by anybody who wants them."

A Family Affair.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 11.—Charles Conover has reported to the police that his wife, aged twenty, eloped with his father, William Conover, aged forty-two, a fireman of this city. He thinks they have gone to St. Louis. Conover wants the police to find the couple and arrest them. Mrs. Conover took her small child along with her.

CONTEST RULES AND CONDITIONS

Any Church, Lodge, School or Society in Seymour and Jackson county is eligible to compete in the contest.

Three pianos will be awarded to the leaders in the contest at the close. One $400 Jesse French Piano will be given to the leader of the entire county. Two $300 Lagonda Pianos will be given as second and third prizes in contest.

The first and second prizes with which the contest started will be awarded to the highest and second highest leaders in the county, with the provision that not more than one of these two may be awarded to Seymour contestants.

The third prize, which is now added to the contest, will be awarded to the highest contestant who does not secure either of the first two prizes.

The voting coupon which appears in the Daily REPUBLICAN is good for one vote when properly filled out and brought or mailed to this office before the expiration date marked thereon; the weekly coupon is good for five votes on the same conditions.

Employees of the REPUBLICAN are excluded from voting in the contest or unduly favoring any one candidate. All other persons of any age or sex are privileged to take part in the contest and vote for the candidates.

Special ballots will be issued for arrearages and renewals to the Daily and Weekly REPUBLICAN. Votes will be given according to the printed schedule below. The basis will be 100 votes for each one dollar paid by an old subscriber. Special ballots will be issued for new paid-in-advance subscriptions to the Daily or Weekly REPUBLICAN on the basis of 250 votes for each dollar paid. See printed schedule of votes.

Only authorized persons working in the interest of some candidate can solicit subscriptions. All such persons will be supplied with special ballot books. Each subscriber will be given a binding receipt besides receiving a receipt from the office for the amount paid. Special subscription ballots will also be issued at the REPUBLICAN office.

A new subscriber is any person who subscribes to the Daily or Weekly REPUBLICAN after the first announcement of the contest.

Subscription ballots, after being receipted at the REPUBLICAN office, can be retained by contestants and voted at any time during the contest.

Contestants or workers are privileged to solicit votes and subscriptions anywhere. No one is limited to a certain territory. The field is everywhere and open to all.

The standing of the contestants will be published twice each week in the Daily REPUBLICAN and in the Weekly REPUBLICAN. The votes will be counted each Tuesday evening and Friday evening. Contestants will mail or bring their votes to the office so as to comply with this arrangement.

A complete record will be kept of every vote cast in books designed for this purpose. The final count of all the ballots will be made by a committee of judges appointed by the candidates. This committee will determine the winners.

No information regarding standing of any candidate is available other than that published in the REPUBLICAN.

WARM PLEA FOR A CLOSER UNION

America and Japan Must Ever Grow Nearer.

BOUND BY MANY COMMON TIES

Senator Beveridge, Speaking at the Banquet to Japanese Commercial Commissioners, Points Out Why the Relations of the Two Peoples Must Constantly Grow Closer—Geography and Time and Human Nature, Three Great Agencies of God's Purpose, Have Settled That.

Indianapolis, Nov. 10.—An eloquent tribute to Japan's amazing response to western ideas within the past generation of man was paid by Senator Beveridge at the banquet to the visiting Japanese commercial and industrial commissioners at the Claypool hotel last night.

"Within less than a single human lifetime," said the senator, "they have wrought out of Oriental conditions the miracle of a modern constitutional government; created an army and navy which in efficiency and considering their size, are unsurpassed in any country or upon any waters of the globe; organized their industry, commerce and finance on a scientific basis. In municipal government, in medicine, in hygiene, in general education, their advance has been greater, comparatively speaking, than that of any other people in the same time.

"All this amazing picture they have painted with modern colors upon the background of an antique past—a past whose manners, customs and art reach back not through centuries only, but through thousands of years. They have gained the most important things which western civilization, western invention, western habits of thought and western enterprise had to teach them, without losing that grace of social contact, that charm of manner, that poetry of personal living which ages of culture alone can give to any people and which has reached an uncommon ripeness in Japanese character and conduct.

"In the persons of our guests, those who have achieved these wonders are visiting our republic. They would learn all we have to teach them; I would that we might learn all they have to teach us. They seek to know our resources, our methods and the spirit of our people; I would that we might better understand their resources, their methods and the spirit of their people. Japan and America, the greatest powers of the east and of the west, face each other across the greatest ocean of the east or of the west—and the name of that ocean is 'the Pacific.' The seers of statesmanship long ago foresaw that on its shores the world's greatest civilizations would be built, and across its waters history's largest activities would play.

"The relations of these two peoples must constantly grow closer, more intricate—that is written on the book of fate. Geography and time and human nature, those three great agencies of God's purpose, have settled that. And meetings such as this help to accomplish it; journeys such as this are shuttles, weaving the fabric of our mutual advantage and regard. I know that our guests will return to their land of beauty, of heroism and of progress with sure and unshakable understanding of our esteem for them and for their empire. May the day soon come when our government will be equally wise and send a similar commission to that astonishing and attractive country over which waves the prophetic flag of the rising sun."

Three Trainmen Killed.
Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Three trainmen were killed in a head-on collision between a northbound Cincinnati passenger and a freight train on the Louisville & Nashville road near Mynatt, a few miles from here.

Stopped the King's Sport.
London, Nov. 10.—Montagu Guest, justice of the peace for London and Dorset, dropped dead late yesterday afternoon while out with the king's shooting party. King Edward immediately stopped the shooting.

Good Cough Medicine for Children and Grown Folks, Too.

"We could hardly do without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Mrs. Flora Despain, of Boyd, Ky. "I have found it to be so good for the croup and have used it for years. I can heartily recommend it for coughs, colds and croup in children and old folks, too." The above shows the explicit confidence that many mothers place in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a confidence based on many years' experience in the use of it. No one need hesitate to use this remedy for it contains no chloroform, opium or other narcotics and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Boy Victim of Accident.
Joliet, Ill., Nov. 8.—Ferdinand Zander is dead as the result of a stab in the eye by a pitchfork in the hands of his brother John. The tragedy was accidental. The victim and his brother were feeding stock. The elder was pitching hay to the horses, while the other was carrying fodder. The boy in the hayloft missed his footing and fell with the pitchfork in his hand. One of the tines struck the boy who was below.

Mrs. Louis Hite, 428 Outlen street, Danville, Ill., writes, Oct. 1st: "Foley's Kidney Pills started me on the road to health. I was treated by four doctors and took other kidney remedies but grew worse, and was unable to do my housework, and the doctor told me I only could live from two to six months. I am now so much better that I do all of my own work, and I shall be very glad to tell any one afflicted with kidney or bladder trouble the good results I received from taking Foley's Kidney Pills." Commence today and be well. Do not risk having Bright's Disease or Diabetes. Sold by all druggists.

Roosevelt All Right.
Rome, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt has received a cable message from her husband, former President Roosevelt, dated Nairobi, stating that there was no truth in the rumors that he was ill or had met with an accident. He added that he was perfectly well.

What Would You Do?
In a case of burn or scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a very severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Fatal Wreck on Elevated.
New York, Nov. 8.—Four persons, three of whom were railroad employees, were killed and six passengers seriously and a score slightly injured in a collision between a Pennsylvania railroad train and an engine running light on the elevated tracks of the railroad in Jersey City.

There is no case on record of a cough or cold resulting in pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken, as it will stop your cough and break up your cold quickly. Refuse any but the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow package. Contains no opiates and is safe and sure. Sold by all druggists.

Ended Life at Mother's Grave.
Herrin, Ill., Nov. 10.—Lying across his mother's grave with an empty carbolic acid bottle close by, the lifeless form of Alderman James Guthrie was found in the cemetery at Herrin, three miles south of here. He and his wife had quarreled over a son who had run away.

Sick Headache.
This distressing disease results from a disordered condition of the stomach, and can be cured by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Get a free sample at C. W. Milhous' drug store and try it.

Gotch an Easy Winner.
Chicago, Nov. 10.—Frank Gotch, world's champion wrestler, clearly outclassed the Italian Ralcevic last night in their match for the championship. Gotch won the first fall in rather handy fashion in 16 minutes 28 seconds. The second was easy for the Iowan in 5 minutes and 28 seconds.

If you desire a clear complexion take Foley's Orino Laxative for constipation and liver trouble as it will stimulate these organs and thoroughly cleanse your system, which is what every one needs in order to feel well. Sold by all druggists.

Brown's Costly Rabbit.
Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 9.—Harry Brown, a young farmer living near this city, shot a rabbit, brought it to town and sold it at a grocery store for 10 cents. An hour later he was arrested on the charge of violating the game laws. On a plea of guilty he was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $27.10.

PROFESSOR'S "SUBJECT" DEAD

During a Public Performance at Somerville, N. J., Prof. Everton Put Robert Simpson Through Certain Stunts, at the End of Which the Subject Collapsed—Taken to a Hospital, All the Efforts of the "Professor" and the Doctors Failed to Restore Life.

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 9.—Robert Simpson was pronounced dead by the staff of the Somerset hospital as the result of being hypnotized by Prof. Arthur Everton of Newark in the Somerville theater here last night. Simpson was hurried to the hospital in an ambulance after Prof. Everton had tried for more than an hour to bring him out of a cataleptic state. Prof. Everton was placed under arrest by Chief of Police Bell and taken before Justice Sutphen, who paroled him in the custody of the police in order that he might go to the Somerset hospital in company with another hypnotist and make another effort to restore Simpson to consciousness.

County Prosecutor Regelon returned from the hospital at midnight and ordered a warrant issued for Prof. Everton on a charge of manslaughter. In his examination before Justice Sutphen Everton stated that he had hypnotized Simpson in Newark a week ago and had since used him as a subject without any ill effects.

Everton put Simpson in a rigid state and, placing his feet on one chair and his head on another, stood on his body. After going through this performance Everton clapped his hands in an effort to restore Simpson. Simpson's eyes rolled in his head, his jaw dropped, he collapsed between the chairs and rolled over on the floor. He was carried to the wings and Everton worked over him until he became exhausted. Three doctors who were in the audience were called back of the stage to assist Everton. Simpson was taken to a hotel near the theater, where the physicians and Everton labored over him for an hour without restoring him. The physicians in the Somerset hospital pronounced Simpson dead at midnight, but Everton and a fellow hypnotist kept working over him in an attempt to bring him to life.

COTTON BULLS ROUTED

The Market Goes to Pieces Under a Flood of Selling.

New York, Nov. 9.—When several options sold off yesterday from 100 to 125 points, James A. Patten and his friends, whose lead on the bull side of cotton was estimated last week at between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, lost a full third of their hypothetical winnings. Thousands of little fellows were wiped out.

The market opened with a thud. Prices were 22 to 38 points below Saturday's closing. At one time under the call the January option showed 125 points loss from its previous top price. This meant that every little bull who had bought the minimum amount of cotton for which he could get execution, 100 bales, was out $625.

Never, it is said, has the public or Wall street participated more extensively in any cotton movement. The little country operators, seeing their paper profits slipping away from them every day, became panicky at the opening and rushed on selling orders from all over the country. The bull leaders stood aside and let them sell. There were fluctuations of 6 or 7 points between sales. Stop orders carried prices still lower. One bull house which has been touting 17 and 20-cent cotton was reported to be demanding $7 a bale margin. Few houses, or none, would take orders at less than $3 a bale, and most wanted $5. The ordinary margin is $3. This demand for more margins and broader ones forced much liquidation. After the first panicky rush was over there came a wave of buying from the Wall street houses and then followed a quick rally of 20 or 25 points, which, however, was not maintained. The market closed steady, about 20 points off.

Body of Unknown Woman Found in River Near Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—Mystery which has defied the efforts of coroner and police surrounds the identity of a young woman whose body was found in White river, a mile northwest of Broad Ripple, near the Monon trestle, yesterday afternoon.

The young woman's apparel, plainly of fashionable cut, despite its mud and water-soaked condition, is evidence that she was not unaccustomed to the better things of life. The autopsy established the fact that death was caused by drowning. There was no wound on the body and no fracture of the skull. The condition of the body is such as to cause the belief that it had been in the water ten days at least and perhaps a few days longer. The face and features of the young woman are so badly altered that it is doubtful if friends could recognize her.

THREE THOUSAND SLAIN

Bloody Battle in Abyssinia Reported by Way of Cologne.

Cologne, Nov. 10.—According to a dispatch from Addis-Abeba, two of the minor princes of Abyssinia, Abate and Abraha, started an internal war, their quarrel growing out of territorial questions concerning the parts of the country they respectively ruled over. Their armies met a few days ago, and after a battle which lasted for three days, in which 3,000 on both sides were killed, Prince Abraha was defeated and taken prisoner.

HYPNOTIST TRIED TO RAISE THE DEAD

But His Commands Fell On Deaf Ears.

New York, Nov. 10.—Last evening, in a little room in the basement of the Somerset county hospital at Somerville, N. J., an attempt was made by the methods of the hypnotist to resuscitate the hypnotic subject Simpson, who had apparently died while under hypnotic influence the night before. On some rough planks raised to a table's height lay the body—living or dead—of the man Simpson, whose means of livelihood had been as a subject for the showman-hypnotist, Arthur Everton.

Everton in jail and charged with homicide, persisted in his declaration that Simpson was not dead, but in a cataleptic state in which the hypnotist had placed him for exhibition purposes. Everton had begged the authorities that his friend and sometime instructor, W. E. Davenport, secretary to the Newark postmaster, be sent for and be allowed to attempt to revive Simpson. This request of the hypnotist the authorities after consultation decided to grant.

In the early evening Davenport arrived in Somerville. He was met at the station by Mrs. Everton. They went to the hospital, where they met E. H. Long, county physician, and three members of the hospital staff. Davenport explained to them that he had long been a student of hypnotics, that he had practiced it only as a student and that he had come in response to a pupil's cry for help and would, with the doctors' permission, attempt to revive the subject Simpson. Dr. Long, for himself and members of the staff, agreed. In their opinion Everton's hypnotic subject was dead. They professed no especial knowledge of hypnotism and were willing to concede that the man possibly might be in a cataleptic state and possibly could be revived.

Mr. Davenport, after laying aside his hat and overcoat, pulled the covering from Simpson's body and applied his ear, as if listening for heart-beats. Then he slightly opened the eyes of the man, and, bringing his own eyes close to them, looked into them intently. Davenport again applied first his ear and then the tips of his fingers over the motionless heart. Next he bent his head down low over the head, placed his lips close to an ear of the body he sought to revive and said sharply, "Bob." He then followed with the words, "Bob, your heart is beating."

But there was no motion. The operator eagerly felt again over the heart and again listened, and then again spoke into the unhearing ear: "Bob, listen, hear what I say; your heart, your heart is beating." There was no response, no movement, no fluttering of the heart.

After that Davenport pressed upon the breast as if artificially to start a movement of the heart and then spoke into the other ear: "Bob, Bob, you hear me? Your heart is moving."

Davenport stepped a little aside, looked at the unseeing, half-open eyes, took up his coat and with a bow to the doctors, started to leave the room. As he passed Dr. Long the latter asked, "What is your judgment?"

"I did not come here to pronounce judgment," Davenport responded quietly, and walked out of the room.

On the veranda of the hospital he was overtaken by a messenger and recalled. Dr. Long spoke to him again: "Do you think that man is dead?" he asked.

"I think he is dead," Davenport replied.

An autopsy was then performed by County Physician Long, assisted by Dr. Stillwell. It showed that death had been caused by rupture of the aorta, the main artery of the heart. The physicians declared this could have been brought about by a strain, but they gave no definite opinion on the nature of the strain.

Letter She Looked For Never Came.

Fairfield, Ill., Nov. 10.—Supposedly because she had been disappointed in a love affair, Miss Carrie Creighton committed suicide a short time after calling at the postoffice and failing to receive an expected letter. Miss Creighton was twenty years old and a daughter of John Creighton. She was a niece of Judge James A. Creighton of Springfield and Circuit Judge Jacob Creighton of this city.

Firemen Seriously Hurt.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 10.—Fire destroyed the Coliseum theater and Jehu Lewis's livery stable building adjoining, and injured two firemen, one perhaps fatally.

REVIVAL OF THE GUNNESS CASE

Insurance Company Agrees to Partial Payment.

HEIRS ACCEPT COMPROMISE

Long Dispute Regarding the Insurance Mrs. Belle Gunness Carried on Ill-Fated House in Which She and Her Children Lost Their Lives Has Been Settled in Court—Contention of Company That Arch-Murderess Was Not Dead Not Upheld by Jury.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 6.—In the Laporte circuit court Judge Richer consented to a compromise of the suit of Wesley Fogle, executor of the last will of Mrs. Bella Gunness, against the Connecticut Fire Insurance company of Hartford, for $2,300 insurance on the Gunness house and contents. The Gunness house was destroyed April 28, 1908, at which time Mrs. Gunness and her three children lost their lives. Immediately afterward it was discovered that the woman had murdered ten or fifteen persons and, after robbing them, had buried them in her private graveyard.

The insurance company refused to pay the insurance, first on the ground that Mrs. Gunness was not dead, but when the coroner and a jury in the Laporte circuit court in the Lamphere trial, held that she was dead, the company contended she had set fire to the house before committing suicide.

The will of Mrs. Gunness gave the property to the children, and in the event of their death to the Norwegian children's home in Chicago. The children were burned to death in the fire. The Norwegian children's home refused to accept the estate, because the money was tainted, and so the property goes to the surviving heirs, two brothers in Norway and a sister in Chicago. These three have agreed to the compromise, and so the insurance company will pay into court $1,000 in settlement of the claim.

TWO INVADERS SLAIN AT A RAILROAD CAMP

Austrian Defends His House
With An Adz.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 8.—Two Austrians, Sam Kragulyac and Steve Boret, were instantly killed by Joseph Dulic, a keeper of an Austrian railroad camp house on the Pennsylvania double-track work. Dulic killed the two men in defense of his life and property and that of his boarders. The two victims of Dulic's wrath, with two other unknown Austrians, who escaped, attempted to hold up the occupants of the camp, which is located west of Richmond. The weapon which Dulic used in the killing was an adz. He used the blunt end on his victims, crushing their skulls and killing them instantly. Dulic is held in the county jail.

MAN WITH $40,000 MISSING

West Virginia Authorities Ask Police to Look For Goshorn.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 8.—The police authorities have sent out a general call for E. J. Goshorn, formerly a wealthy business man of this place, who mysteriously disappeared Oct. 20 with $40,000 which he had received from the sale of property. He realized $80,000 from his transaction, divided the amount with his wife, and has not been seen since.

Soon after he vanished he wrote to his wife stating he had left home never to return. The letters were postmarked Kansas City, Mo., and requested his wife to write him there as "E. J. West, general delivery." These letters have not been called for and no one answering Goshorn's description has been found in Kansas City.

The motive for Goshorn's action is a mystery. His domestic relations apparently were happy.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE

Severe Electrical Storm Sweeps the Illinois River Valley.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 8.—The Illinois river valley was swept Sunday night by the severest electrical storm ever recorded by the local weather bureau. Lightning created havoc throughout Peoria and for a long time all the telegraph and telephone communication was out, while the electric light plant was seriously crippled. Several houses were struck by lightning and burned. Reports from surrounding towns show considerable damage by the wind and lightning. At the home of Herbert Conkey, a large ball of lightning entered through the open door, encircled the dining room and passed without damaging the house. Mrs. Conkey received such a shock that for hours she was unconscious. A stepdaughter was paralyzed.

he was charge d'affaires in London. Mr. Taft, who is described by the Cri as being then an ordinary politician, was visiting London and asked the charge to get him tickets for the opera. Mr. White replied that Mr. Taft was not sufficiently well dressed for the opera, but if he wished to visit the zoo the embassy would give him tickets.

CHARLESTON PROFITS BY SAVANNAH'S ERROR

Therefore the Taft Banquet Was Free From Oratory.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 6.—Like the other cities of the south, Charleston gave President Taft a flattering welcome. The President arrived at 5:30 last evening, reviewed a military parade, held a reception at the mayor's home and attended a banquet. The Charleston folks made this banquet as easy as possible. They had read in the papers of the double dose of southern oratory that the President got at the last Savannah banquet and they decided to have only one brief speech besides the President's. That was merely a welcome by the mayor of the city.

The President's stay in Savannah yesterday was marred by an accident to two men who were firing a salute in his honor. There was a premature explosion of the charge and one man, a negro, had an arm blown off, and the other, a white, lost an eye. The President himself witnessed the accident, being only a short distance from the cannon. In one of his Savannah speeches the President sidestepped a question in regard to a second term. A man in the audience shouted: "Four more years of Taft; another term."

"Gentlemen," said the President, "if you will excuse me, I will make two remarks. One is that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush and the other is that I have received similar expressions of good will from meetings in the District of Columbia. Therefore, I accept such a demonstration as evidence of profound good fellowship, and I pass over the matter of judgment."

HE BANKED AT HOME

Wealthy Farmer Tempted Lone Bandit to Turn a Bold Trick.

Burlington, N. J., Nov. 6.—Working, the police believe, without the aid of a single accomplice, a masked bandit stole between $8,000 and $10,000 in cash and bonds from the home of Schuyler Ranier, seventy-two years old, a wealthy farmer living near Florence. The crime baffles the police at every turn by its desperate boldness.

Although the Ranier homestead is within half a mile of the Florence postoffice and fronts on a much frequented public road, the highwayman, after locking the farmer's aged housekeeper in her bedroom, dynamited the big safe, which has been Ranier's bank and the store house at times for as much as $25,000 in gold.

Mrs. Jane Nickerson, nearly seventy years old and the sole occupant of the farm house when the masked robber entered, is in a critical condition from the shock and the struggle with the bandit. He left her locked in her room when he departed with a burlap sack filled with gold, bank notes, bonds and jewelry.

YOUNG WOMEN TAKE POISON

One Dead and Another in Serious Condition at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 10.—Miss Hattie Miller, daughter of a butcher, committed suicide by taking morphine. Despondency because of a love affair is said to have prompted her to take her life. Miss Mary Day, aged twenty-one, who claims both Columbus, Ind., and Marseilles, Ill., as her home, swallowed a quantity of poison with suicidal intent and was found in an unconscious condition. She was hurried to a hospital and may recover.

DIED IN A ROOM WITH A BLONDE

Banker and Legislator Where He Oughtn't Have Been.

NEW YORK HOTEL SENSATION

Edwin Hills, a Connecticut Banker and Assemblyman, Went to New York With His Wife, but Strayed Away From Safe Moorings—After a General Alarm Had Been Sent Out For the Missing Man His Body Was Found in a Room at the Gilsey House Which He Had Occupied With a Mysterious Blonde.

New York, Nov. 11.—Late yesterday afternoon Edwin Hills, the banker and manufacturer of Plainville, Conn., who disappeared Tuesday and for whom the police had sent out a general alarm, was found dead in a room at the Gilsey House. He had gone to the hotel with a woman, registering as Mr. and Mrs. Charles French of Hartford, Conn. Coroner Shady said that death was undoubtedly due to natural causes and probably by heart disease.

Mr. Hills, who had recently returned from the session of the state legislature, of which he is a member, came to New York Tuesday accompanied by his wife. He was accustomed to make frequent trips to New York to consult physicians in regard to his heart. They went to the Imperial hotel, where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Welch of Doughton, L. I. Mr. Welch is Mr. Hills's brother-in-law.

Soon after arriving Mr. Hills said that he had to go to the Bergfeldt building in West Fourth street to see a Mr. Fitzpatrick. Mr. Fitzpatrick was not in. When her husband did not return that evening Mrs. Hills became alarmed and consulted Mr. Welch. Finally, after waiting till well along in the night, they reported the case to police headquarters and also set several private detectives to work.

Early Tuesday evening the missing man entered the Gilsey House, where he was not known. With him was a woman. They registered as Mr. and Mrs. Charles French. The clerk did not notice the pair particularly. He said the woman was a blonde and apparently about thirty or thirty-five years old. He thought he recognized her as someone who was in the habit of coming into the hotel. They were assigned to a room and went upstairs. Some time yesterday morning the woman came down and left the key at the desk. About 9 in the morning the chambermaid went in to make up the bed. There was no key in the door and she entered with her latkey. She saw that there was someone in the bed and did not go in. At 11 o'clock she tried again and, finding the bed still unoccupied, delayed her work. About half past two the manager, Robert Dunlop, told her to go and wake the man up so she could do her work. She discovered then that he was dead. From papers and letters in the dead man's pockets it was suspected that he was Mr. Hills. His brother-in-law was notified and identified the body.

Miss Creamer, the telephone operator, said that soon after 1 o'clock yesterday morning there was a telephone call from Room 32, to which Mr. Hills had been assigned. The number she said was for Dr. Bulkely, of Madison avenue. Afterward she said the man who had called came down and paid. She did not recognize a picture of Mr. Hills as being the likeness of the man who had paid for the call. Dr. Bulkely said that he had received no telephone message from the Gilsey House and none at all at the time mentioned. He said he did not know Mr. Hills.

In the room were found all the valuables which Mr. Hills had with him when he left the Imperial and $100 that he carried. There was a diamond ring valued at $500, a pearl pin worth $500, another worth about $400, a watch which cost $350 and a locket set with diamonds, which was valued at $450.

Coroner Shady says that the man had been dead for several hours when he saw him. His death, he thought, must have occurred about 7 in the morning.

Haskell Was Overruled.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 11.—The state supreme court sustains County Judge Strang of Guthrie in dismissing the proceedings begun by Attorney General West several months ago under the direction of Governor Haskell against foreign newspapers, magazines and periodicals to restrain their circulation in Oklahoma, of issues containing intoxicating liquor advertisements.

TO WAGE WAR ON THE STEEL CORPORATION

The Scene of Battle Is to Be Indiana Harbor.

Pittsburg, Nov. 11.—The biggest rival of the American Bridge company or construction end of the United States Steel corporation, the McClintick-Marshall Construction company, has just announced its purchase of fifty acres of land at Indiana Harbor, Ind., and its intention to erect one of the largest structural iron mills in the

HENRY C. FRICK.

United States. A great steel mill blast furnace and rolling mills to prepare the structural shapes is also on the program, which may mean the carrying of a war into the Gary camp of the United States Steel corporation and another strong competitor for the growing western demand for structural steel. The McClintick-Marshall concern is but a part of the great independent company reported being formed by the Frick and Mellon millions in opposition to the steel corporation, and in the Inland Steel company at Indiana Harbor, with which the McClintick-Marshall company will work in harmony, is another of the independent plants being considered by the new combination. About $2,000,000 will be spent by the McClintick-Marshall company.

REVOLUTIONARY RAIL INVENTION

Promises to Change the Mode of Transportation.

MONORAIL GIVEN A WORK-OUT

An Exhibition in the British War Office Grounds Proves the Merit and the Marvel of Brennan's Wonderful Gyroscopic Device Which Promises to Revolutionize Railway Transportation—A Full-Sized Car Demonstrates the Efficiency of the New Principle Much More Satisfactorily Than Did the Model—Balance Perfectly Maintained.

London, Nov. 11.—On a full scale on the war office grounds near Chatham, the new monorail railway, which works on the principle of the gyroscope, and which was first shown here in model form some eighteen months ago before the Royal Society by its inventor, Louis Brennan, C. B., has just received its first public demonstration. The guests witnessed a spectacle as marvellous and as revolutionary from the standpoint of transportation as that which aeroplanes have furnished during the past two years. They saw a car forty feet long, ten feet wide and thirteen feet high, weighing twenty-two tons, mounted on a single rail running freely about curves of all sorts and angles carrying forty passengers with safety as complete and vibration far less than the ordinary passenger car.

The vehicle runs in a circle an eighth of a mile in circumference at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour, with eighty horsepower, without the slightest tendency to leave the rail. Two gyroscopes, weighing three-quarters of a ton each, automatically supply perfect stability. The rail closely resembles the ordinary one, except that the top is somewhat curved and the rims of the wheels correspond to this curve. The gyroscopes make 3,000 revolutions a minute. The motive power is entirely self-contained in a gasoline engine which is used to drive the dynamo. Mr. Brennan explained that he finds the efficiency of the new principle in a full-sized car far greater proportionately than in the model. He is convinced that the monorail will soon revolutionize railroad transportation. With vehicles double and treble the size of the present one a speed of 150 miles an hour can be attained with greater safety than sixty miles an hour under the present transportation conditions.

Mr. Brennan's demonstration aroused unbounded enthusiasm among the engineering experts who were present. They especially marvelled at the weird effects of the new principle, one of which was that when the forty passengers were all crowded upon one side of the car the result was not the depression of that side under the unbalancing pressure, but paradoxically the opposite. The more weight that was added the higher rose the level of the overloaded side as the gyroscopes sought to balance the unequal load.

A GOOD CATCH

Detectives Happened to Be in Car the Thieves Sought to Rob.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 11.—A daring attempt was made late last night to rob the American Express over the New York Central railroad between Lyons and this city. While the train was running sixty miles an hour, two men climbed over the side of one of the cars, opened the door with skeleton keys and entered.

Awaiting them, inside, were two railroad detectives, armed, who had been on the watch nightly since recent robberies were reported. They covered the intruders with guns and quickly placed them under arrest. They were brought to this city and locked up. The men gave the names of Frank Brown and George Williams, and claimed to live in Buffalo. Neither of them was armed.

Says It Is a "Stall."

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Edward S. Cooke, whose husband, the Chicago man, who says that he is the one referred to by C. L. Warriner, the ex-treasurer of the Big Four road in Cincinnati, whose shortage is reported to be about $2,000,000, asserted strongly that her husband had not been blackmailing Warriner, but that the railroad official, having been caught himself, was now trying to put the blame on innocent persons.

Runaway Train Creates Havoc.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 11.—Fifteen persons were killed and twenty injured at Lakeview, ten miles from here, when several freight cars, heavily loaded with timber, crashed into a passenger car of an interurban road. The timber cars had broken away while being switched at the top of a hill and were running at terrific speed.

Head of Trust Gets His.

New York, Nov. 11.—John H. Parks, head of the so-called wrapping paper trust, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Hough to having violated the Sherman law and was fined $4,000. The fine was immediately paid in cash.

AT LARGE FOR AN HOUR

Michigan City Convict Found His Liberty Short-Lived.

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 11.—Armed with a hatchet, Ralph Williams, alias Ralph Clark, a convict, escaped from the state prison and was at large for an hour, in which time he entered a house and beat a woman, from whom he demanded a change of clothes. Chased by a posse of guards, citizens and police, he took refuge in one of the shops of the Haskell & Barker car factory, and was captured. The woman is not seriously injured.

Williams was sent up from Clark county on March 9, 1907, to serve from two to fourteen years for burglary.

THE PRESIDENT AGAIN AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Thirteen Thousand-Mile Trip Is Completed Safely.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Last night President Taft got back to Washington from his swing around the circle, the longest swing of that character ever taken by any president during the term of his service in that high office. He had travelled approximately 13,000 miles, had gone into thirty-three states and two territories and had crossed over into Mexico. This record-breaking tour was begun at Beverly, Mass., on Sept. 15 and extended over a period of fifty-six days.

It was a royal welcome home to the president—that is from the Washington viewpoint. Washington seldom enthuses over its great men and usually the presence of a brass band and a regiment or two of uniformed troops is necessary to bring out any considerable number of the capital's citizens on occasions of informal ceremony like that last night. But Washington, or part of it, abandoned precedent last evening and in spite of the absence of the brass band and the troops, there was a big crowd at the union station when the president's special train pulled in at 8:35 o'clock. The crowd cheered, too, and Mr. Taft looked pleased.

He said that if it were not for his impatience to see Mrs. Taft he would just as soon have the trip spread over two or three more weeks. Besides the 13,000 miles covered by train on his record-breaking trip, he made 962 miles in automobiles and 165 miles in stages and carriages. He has made 270 speeches, an average of about five a day. As a gastronomic feat the president's trip is one of the greatest on record. He has eaten 579 formal breakfasts, luncheons and dinners. He has not cut a single function, and he is ending the trip with his digestion just as good as it ever was.
